FROM THE QUARTERDECK

If Opening Day is a prelude to the season then be prepared for a little bit of everything. Good fun, slow starts, great finishes, big crowds, fantastic parties, windy, wet sailing and new friends.

Saturday's weather started the weekend with a slow first leg and a beautiful finish, and then Sunday started with plenty of wind and ended up very wet. But let me go back to the beginning of Opening Day.

The skippers meeting Saturday morning reviewed GSI changes and the flag raising ceremony also raised a glass of champagne with a toast to "The men and women that go to sea". The traditional blessing of the fleet ceremony was enjoyed by a large crowd of members and guests, lead by Rev. Bill Egelhoff who has been performing this service for FBYC over the past 21 years. We concluded with a big "BANG" and adjourned to the party where 175+ members and guests celebrated Opening Day with food, beverage and a great 2 man band that just wouldn't quit. Our hosts were Mike Calkins, the club Social Chair and Jon Moody who has taken this party and made it something special now for 2 years running.

Many skippers will start the season with new, well trained crew, thanks to our past Commodore, Allan Heyward, who led our crew training program with help from Alex Alvis, Jim Snowa and many skippers that discussed different aspects of sailing during the 3 classroom sessions and several skippers that took recruits out for on the water training. I hope everyone took full advantage of this effort. The new recruits had a blast sailing with us.

I salute Al Ailsworth, our Fleet Lt. for having all the Club boats in ship shape condition. Mr. Roberts is mechanically sound, looks great and head turning worthy. Wildcat II has a new lower outdrive, the Seacraft has holes patched and a new topside paint job, the Whaler got a new throttle, gear control and all the Jr. trailers are now road worthy.

Jay Buhl, our Sailing Fleet Lt. has been busy too, reorganizing the Jr. Shack gear as well as getting all the Clubs sailing vessels ready for the season. Also, thanks to David Hinckle and Mike Dale we have new Laser racks built and more to come. And I sincerely hope some of those Laser owners start using their boats.

We have been trained, and retrained by John McCarthy who gave a refresher course on Race Management to our PRO's thanks to Matt Braun our One Design Race Committee Chairman, and we have had another special day of training and education on heavy weather preparedness, discussing what weather is all about, how the fronts develop and how to deal with it when the bad stuff catches up with you. All 60 + attendees thank Ed O'Connor and George Burke for putting together another great session.

We have had a great start to the season, so what's next? Our One Design fleets will have celebrated on April 26th, a similar skippers meeting and Fishing Bay flag raising ceremony for their side of the Club. Then our next big Club event will be the first of the Long Distance Series Races, the Urbanna Weekend Regatta on May 24th. The race to Rosegill is another tradition of a Club race with a family pick nick style party at the Rosegill barn

FBYC BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS March 13 2008

Meeting called to order at 6:00 p.m. by Commodore Ric Bauer.

REAR COMMODORE – C. MAYO TABB, JR.

DOCKS – David Hinckle reported that there is only one slip available and none of the nine boats on the waiting list will fit in that slip. He has a proposal for the new Laser racks. New fiberglass ladders have been installed on the docks and life rings for the docks are on the way. Mayo Tabb advised that he will personally contact the members with boats in dry sail or slips who have not signed a Lease Agreement and/or provided proof of insurance coverage.

SOCIAL – Mike Calkins would like to invite Yankee Point Yacht Club and Rappahannock River Yacht Club members to the Rosegill event.

GROUNDS – Forty volunteers showed up on clean-up day. Charles Lytton has negotiated a year-round grounds contract that will be signed on April 19.

MEMBER-AT-LARGE – The final on-the-water crew training session will be held on April 13 and Allan Heyward has been pleased with the number of members who have taken the crew training participants out in their boats.

WEBMASTER – The credit card billing issue that Strother Scott discussed at the March Board meeting has been resolved. Strother hired a local programmer who has fixed the credit card problem and has agreed to reasonable terms to perform additional work on the web site and has signed a confidentially agreement. He will re-build the Crew Finder and Classified Ads so that people can enter data on the internet without having to e-mail Strother.

VICE COMMODORE – R. NOEL CLINARD

Noel Clinard reported that he was recently contacted by club members Richard and Kay Clary whose daughter Rebecca Clary Harris (known as "Becca") perished accidentally last year. The Clary family was interested in making a memorial donation in Becca's memory to the Junior program, which Becca loved, and asked

Noel to recommend appropriate uses for the donation. Several options were recommended and the Clary family decided to make a substantial donation toward a new powerboat to be used in the Junior program. Additional donations have been given by other members to cover the cost of a new boat, motor, trailer and VHF radio. A christening ceremony will be held at a later date and the boat will be named Becca Boat in memory of Becca's nickname for a beloved dinghy built by her grandfather and father and given to her as a toddler. In addition, a deed of gift is being prepared for a new perpetual trophy to be given each year to a deserving young junior, to be known as the "Becca Boat Trophy."

FLEET CAPTAIN – Alex Alvis discussed the many training opportunities that have been available this year - the crew training program, John McCarthy's race management seminar on April 5, the Safety-at-Sea program on April 12, and offshore training aboard Mr. Roberts on April 13.

ONE DESIGN DIVISION – Tom O'Connell conducted an inventory of the small boat parking lot and found a large number of unauthorized boats on trailers and racks. With Mary Spencer's help, he has identified quite a few of the boats. There was a list of the remaining unauthorized boats in the April Log.

CRUISING DIVISION – Ed O'Connor reported that the first cruising event of the year was the Welcome Cruisers dinner on March 29 and the first cruise will take place May 17-18.

JUNIOR DIVISION – There are 71 children signed up for Junior Week and 15 for OptiKids, which is significantly ahead of this date last year. Early registration ends on April 20. Eric has hired a few additional coaches for Junior Week. Junior Coach Dingo is expected to arrive ahead of Team Trials in Annapolis, which starts May 1. Coach Damien should arrive by mid-June and Tommy Coleman will help with Junior Week again this year. Hart Moore has started Spring practice for Optis in preparation for Team Trials. Two of our Junior sailors attended international events last month. Alex Jacob sailed in the South American Championship in Peru and Kendall Swenson attended the Easter Youth Regatta in the Netherlands.

FLEET LT. – Al Ailsworth has completed

a number of maintenance items on Mr. Roberts, including painting the head. He also bought paint for the bottom at a significantly reduced price.

SAILING FLEET LT. – Jay Buhl reported that work on the 420's and Optis will be completed before they are needed for OptiKids and Junior Week.

CBYRA – Tom Roberts reported that 45 people attended the CBYRA High-Point Awards Dinner. He discussed a "Golden Anchor" program that results in benefits to the members who renew their CBYRA and U.S.Sailing memberships through CBYRA.

PARTICIPATION – David Hazlehurst reminded Board members that the MyFBYC feature on the opening page of the club web site allows anyone to pull up lists of the members who have volunteered to assist in various jobs. He urged those who are trying to find volunteers for events to use those lists and he will help anyone who needs help in using this feature.

NEW BUSINESS – Noel Clinard announced that a Committal Service to scatter Chuck Raynor's ashes in Fishing Bay will be held on Opening Day following the Blessing of the Fleet. Boats will be docked at the Fishing Bay pier for those wishing to go out for the service.

Ric Bauer announced: (1) that Judy Buis is searching for housing for the CBYRA judge and his wife who will be attending the Leukemia Cup Regatta and anyone who can provide lodging for Friday and Saturday nights should contact Judy; (2) that he had been contacted by a club member about holding a club flea market on May 3; (3) that this year's Fishing Bay Challenge Bowl trophy will go to the second place skipper of the PHRF Fleet with the greatest increase in participation for the Spring, Fall and Long Distance Series combined races; and (4) that the June Board meeting will be held at the clubhouse on June 14 and will be immediately followed by a New Member Reception. New members for 2007 and 2008 and their sponsors will be invited to attend.

There being no additional business, the meeting was adjourned at 7:20 p.m.

You can help make this Regatta the “Best of the Best!”

I am the Regatta Food and Beverage Coordinator. We need your help. Listed below are event dates, and the volunteer positions needed. Please call (804) 776-6004 or email cjschott@verizon.net to let me know which event and position you are interested in for the Regatta. Not only is participation a lot of fun, but we will be working together for the important mission of raising funds. This Regatta helps find a cure for leukemia, lymphoma, and myeloma, also to improve the quality of life for patients and their families. Please consider signing up with 2 or 3 of your friends as a team. This is a wonderful way to give back to the community, and have lots of fun in the process!

On behalf of the Regatta Planning Committee, please accept our deepest appreciation for your gift of time!

From the quarterdeck on p. 1...

This year, Strother and Alfred Scott have invited us to have cocktails in the Main House at Rosegill, which will be followed by dinner, beverages, and a fun Jimmy Buffet type band that should be entertaining for the whole family. Then on Sunday we have the Rappahannock River Races with our friends from RRYC, followed by a potluck dinner and awards with them that night. On May 31st, the last of our One Design Spring Series Races, we will have our One Design Challenge fund raising race day. The July Leukemia Cup regatta is the Off Shore skippers' opportunity to help the cause and this One Design Challenge Race is an opportunity for the small boat skippers and crew to do their part raising funds for this most worthy cause. It will be a full day of racing fun both on the water and ashore so everyone, skippers and families alike, can enjoy the day and make a difference in the battle against Leukemia. More details should be announced in the coming weeks. Save the day now.

New business:

I have announced that the June Board meeting will be held at the Club on June 14th and our annual New Member Reception, hosted by the membership committee and the Flag, will follow immediately after. The invitees include all 2007 and 2008 New Members as well as their sponsors and our Board members. If you are among those folks, please plan on attending this special reception for our new members. The next day, June 15th, we celebrate the arrival of our full complement of Junior Coaches, the Junior Week Volunteers and all the parents who make their sacrifices and contributions to the FBYC Junior Program. If you are one of our Junior Activists' please plan on joining us for that "thank you" reception.

Check the new books for details on upcoming events. Sail often and volunteer often. This is your Club.

FBYC Junior Sailors Sail the World

After qualifying at the USODA North American Championship this past fall at the Atlantic Coast Championship in Norfolk, FBYC's Kendall Swenson tiptoed through the icy tulips in Holland in March competing in the 23rd International Optimist Easter Regatta in the Netherlands. There were 214 competitors from nine countries: Belgium, Finland, Germany, Great Britain, Ireland, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and the USA. Among Team USA fielded 15 boys and 5 girls ranging in age from 11 to 14 years and hailing from nine states including Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, New York, Texas, and Virginia.

Conditions were horrific with temperatures averaging 34 degrees, with snow, sleet, rain, and/or hail pouring in hard off the North Sea every day, driven by 15 to 25 knot winds and gusting to over 30. Even the Europeans, who regularly sail in high wind conditions and who believe 130 pounds is the optimum weight for the Optimist dinghy thought it was survival conditions. As the event progressed the competitors learned from the locals it was the worst weather for this event in 50 years!

At the awards ceremony, Team USA was presented with the best team award based on overall finishes – a first in recent memory. The team's best finisher was Alex Ramos from AYC coming in at 10th place in the Gold fleet. Kendall made a very respectable finish at 11th in the Bronze fleet. Even though she did a lot of swimming in the frigid waters she smiled every day and couldn't wait to get back in her boat. It was an amazing experience on many levels for all the sailors.

For more details on this phenomenal event please check the website the Holland team created, featuring a daily blog, many photos and all the results: <http://teamusaholland.googlepages.com/>.

A half a world away, FBYC's Alex Jacob was slogging it out against some of the best Optimist sailors in the world. Alex qualified last fall at the ACCs in Norfolk to join the top ranked Team USA, which attended the International Optimist Dinghy Association's South American Championship held in Paracas, Peru from March 13th through the 23rd. This year's event saw 190 sailors from 16 countries converge on this highly competitive event. North America was represented by full teams of 15 each from Bermuda, Mexico and the USA and smaller teams from Puerto Rico, Trinidad and USVI.

Paracas, Peru is a 4 to 5 hour drive south of Lima. The town is very small (1200 inhabitants), quite remote and in a desert. The race course is known for steady and reasonably predictable wind direction and water temperature. The first day's racing was in 20 - 30 knots of wind with an accompanying sand storm. However, the following days brought winds in the more moderate 10-15 knot range. As is usually the case, Alex turned in a solid performance coming in at 70th, with his top three scores at 9th, 10th and 13th. This against many of the who's - who of international Opti racing. .

You can get more details on this event including pictures at http://www.cncharitas.com.br/sul_-5.

combined with the nearly 20 kids we expect for Opti Kids the two prior weekends, we may set a new record for participation in this flagship junior event. At this writing, our 420 and beginning Opti Classes are full and the others aren't far behind.

This year's group, led by Junior Division Commander Stephan Cost will enjoy our best coaching lineup ever, including our head and assistant coaches from Argentina Luis "Dingo" Canuto and Damien Saponara for the Laser radial and Optimists Racing classes. Tommy Coleman and Hart Moore will lead the Intermediate Optimists, while returning coaches Annie Vance and Bobby Lippincott will lead our 420s. We've also been blessed with an exceptional lineup of very experienced returning volunteer coaches including Mike Toms, Alison Lennarz and Mark Hayes for Beginner Opti and Jerry Desvernine and Russ Collins for Group Sailing. Our pro-organizer Nica Waters will also be on hand to help Stephan with the many aspects of this program. As always, there will be lots of fun ashore and afloat with great food, ice cream, ice man, parent races and lots of friends. We hope to see all of you at this event so don't miss out. If you don't wait too long, you might be able grab a last remaining slot or two for your juniors at www.fbyc.net.

Tzu Hang Revisited Jere Dennison

In the January 2008 Log I sketched the story of a chance encounter by several club members with the bright red 46' ketch Tzu Hang anchored in Fishing Bay on a particularly inclement day in the spring of 1967. The yacht was made famous by the globe-girdling exploits of her owners, retired British General Miles Smeeton and his wife, Beryl. These exploits included two capsizes on a Cape Horn passage attempt in 1956-57. The Smeetons memorialized their survival experiences in their classic book on voyaging under sail, Once is Enough. Other books on their nautical adventures aboard Tzu Hang followed and inspired future generations to pursue the challenges of blue water sailing.

Why were these sailing luminaries anchored in Fishing Bay some forty years ago? This mystery was partially answered by a reading of a book left in the club library by an unknown donor. Entitled High Endeavors: The Extraordinary Life and Adventures of Miles and Beryl Smeeton, it was written by Miles Clark, Mile Smeeton's godson, and published in 1992. This detailed biographical work described the Smeeton's final circumnavigation in Tzu Hang which included a stop in Washington D.C for a reception at the National Geographic Society before returning to England. I assumed that the Smeetons had meandered into the Piankatank by happenstance as they worked their way north up the Bay seeking shelter from a raging nor'easter. .

But now we know the complete story. There was indeed a personal FBYC connection that brought the Smeetons to our shores. Temple Bayliss, current member and a son of 1955 Commodore Major Bayliss, greeted me recently at a recent gathering in Richmond with the news, later incorporated in an email, that "the reason that Beryl and (General) Miles Smeeton chose Fishing Bay as a port of call that windy, rainy day in 1967 was that they were planning to stay with my parents, Catherine and (Major) Murray Bayliss, then very active in the Club and the owners of the aged 32 foot catboat, Tempest. The Smeetons had called at Jamaica where they stayed on the plantation of Welly Lyon-Hall. Welly was a close friend of my parents from the war, when my father was stationed on Jamaica. She wrote my parents and arranged the Smeeton's visit."

Temple continued, "My father and brother Murray picked up the Smeetons (Murray remembers the wildweather) and took them to Goochland where my parents entertained them for a few days. Alas, I was away. General Smeeton wrote a decidedly snitty account of the visit, and even made a poke at Welly Lyon Hall in his next book, To the Misty Isles. My parents were not offended. The Smeetons had been delightful guests."

But what of Tzu Hang's fate. I declared in the January issue that her whereabouts was unknown. Now, thanks to another member, immediate Past Commodore Allan Heyward, we may now have the answer to this question also. Recently Allan received a gift of a book entitled Passage to Juneau by Jonathan Raban published in 1999 by Random House. The book describes a solo voyage from Raban's Seattle home to the Alaskan Panhandle via the Inside Passage along the Pacific coastline. The author had been friends with Miles Clark, Smeeton's biographer, and had read several of Smeeton's books.

His route took him by Saltspring Island off British Columbia where Tzu Hang had often being moored between the Smeetons' ocean passages. This proximity allowed Raban to devote a couple of pages in the book explaining why he admired their sailing achievements while denigrating their characters. Go figure...he never knew them personally but evidently eschewed their political beliefs and eccentric habits.

But interestingly, he stated: "In 1968, the aging Smeetons sold Tzu Hang to a friend. Several owners later, she was carrying large cargoes of marijuana on the Columbia-Chesapeake Bay run, and in 1988 she was impounded by U.S. Customs agents. In 1990, a Puerto Rican ship-breaker bulldozed her to bits.”

So now we have determined the ignoble demise of this famous vessel ...or have we? For some reason, Miles Clark tells us in the Smeeton biography published in 1992 that the ultimate fate of the yacht was unknown. Perhaps he never received word of Tzu Hang’s demolition in 1990 until after some knowledgeable individual had read the biography later in the 1990s and connected the dots. Unfortunately Miles Clark died of a self-inflicted wound in the late 1990’s, and the source of this information was not cited by Raban in his book.

Thanks to Temple and Allan for their help in updating this intriguing story.

CRUISE TO INDIAN CREEK IN LITTLE BAY (Revised Dinner Plans) May 17-18

This is a Saturday sail to Pitman Cove on Indian Creek in Little Bay. Plan on a leisurely cruise to Pitman Cove where we'll renew old friendships with Jamie Stalnaker and his wife at their new home. At approximately 1700 hrs we'll gather at Jamie's place, indulge in a few libations and snacks provided by your hosts, Diane and Ed O'Connor. At approximately 1900 hrs, Jamie will provide land transportation to Kilmarnock, only 2 miles away, for a dinner at 'Swanks on Main'. We'll need to make reservations ahead of time (at least a week), so, please register for this event quickly. Dress is nice casual. Cruising directions to Jamie's dock will be forthcoming. Jamie has limited dock space, so anchoring and dingy ride in may be required. Register for this event at www.fbyc.net or contact ej.oconnor@verizon.net or call 804-360-2934(H), 804-338-1142 (C).

ROSEGILL OR URBANNA AND YANKEE POINT YACHT CLUB May 24, 25 & 26

Memorial Day weekend offers something for everyone at FBYC. Race or cruise to Urbanna on Saturday morning, attend the Rosegill party that evening, or spend the day exploring Urbanna. For those only exploring Urbanna, plan on attending a cocktail party at 1700 hrs hosted by Ted and Myra Bennett, then, dinner at the dock or in town. The Lytton's have 6 docks reserved at the Urbanna Town Marina for Saturday. If you want one let them know very soon. If they are not claimed by May 10th they will let them go per agreement with the Dock Master. On Sunday, May 25th, Fishing Bay has arranged a festive evening of camaraderie at the Yankee Point Yacht Club. Please bring a hors d'oeuvre to share and your beverage of choice. Ice and soft drinks will be provided. Stella and Charlie Jones will provide us with North Carolina barbeque for dinner and peach cobbler for dessert. Plan to anchor out and dinghy in or check with the marina at 804-462-7635 for any available slips. On Memorial Day feel free to check out the marina's Snack Bar at the top of the hill for breakfast before having a leisurely sail back to Fishing Bay. Chaired by Carol and Charles Lytton. Register for this event at www.fbyc.net or contact c.lytton@woolfolkproperties.com or call 804-379-8835.

'Tis a Good Day to Set Sail

At last! This cruise will be the best.
I have no fear of stormy seas or red skies at the dawn of day.
I've kept her trim; handled her well,
sailed my craft to many a port,
and guided her through storm and shoal...
each trip a preparation for this long-anticipated day.

The rush of water 'gainst the hull
as she cuts through the waves; rhythmic slapping as halyard strikes the mast...
these sounds pleasure sailors like me.
Warm and cozy as a blanket,
salty sea smells envelop me...
and the scenes as cormorant and gull weave and dip into nearby waters, become living seascapes created by the hand of God.
My heart has found its "safe harbor,"
I am where I was meant to be.
At last, the sea and I are one.

We gain speed as bow cuts the waves.
They splash and salt spray anoints me.
Those left behind, bid me farewell...
"Bon Voyage," fading voices call.
I turn to wave...the echo of my voice repeats across the bay.
Yes, 'tis a good day to set sail.
