From the Quarterdeck Jay Buhl, Commodore

Land based activities kept the board very busy during the month of April. Repairs to the Jackson Creek bulk head were completed in the dry sail and west dock areas. Certainly good news, but even better, we spent less than half the amount originally planned! Our Cruising Class and other Off Shore skippers boats' aromas should improve this season as our pump out station is finally operational. Development of our new land began Monday April 18th, and at the time you read the May Log, the contractor should have completed Phases I & II which include: trenching for and installing water and electrical services, grading and spreading gravel for the new road system, and building a new grass ramp. Our new operations manager Dixon Cole began work April 1st and is already adding tremendous value. His prior marine repair experience has enabled him to bring our power boat fleet into working order before the sailing season begins, and without outside labor expense. There were also several great events held during the month. Greg Fisher held a Flying Scott workshop with 28 people in attendance, and Gary Jobson spoke to 178 people at the University of Richmond raising more than $3,700 for the Leukemia Society. We also had 30 plus volunteers participate during clean up day, thank you for your time and effort.

In last months' edition of the Log, while updating progress on Key Objectives, I reported the Long Range Planning committee had developed a comprehensive eleven point format that will drive the planning process and provide a blueprint for our future. The format was unanimously agreed to and will ultimately deliver a quite extensive document to the membership and board, which will then be used to help guide the club. We have discovered by adopting this new format more work is required than originally anticipated, so development will extend beyond our original timeline. In addition, a key element to the documents development and effectiveness, is a membership survey which has a cost associated with its execution. The expense was not budgeted for in 2005, so we will delay its execution for a while. The committee however, still has a full agenda despite a delayed survey, and will continue their work. We have decided to revise our completion timeline from September 2005 to summer or fall of 2006.

If you thought April was busy, go to our site and click on the All Events and take a look at the May schedule. May will prove to be a very busy sailing month for three of our four sailing divisions. The schedule includes three One Design events, one actually April 30th, four Offshore events, and two Cruising Events. And remember at the end of May, our ever fun sail to and dinner party at Rosegill on Saturday of Memorial Day weekend. Please sign up for Rosegill and any of the other nine sailing events using our on-line registration system that can be found easily on FBYC.net.

Finally, Sailing Season is here! ■

Board Meeting Highlights

April 14, 2005

Meeting called to order at 6:05 p.m. by Commodore Jay Buhl.

REAR COMMODORE – ALLAN HEYWARD

HOUSE – John Koedel advised that the OBX contract has been renewed at the same rate as last year.

DOCKS – Ric Bauer reported that the bulkhead repairs have been completed but some grading in the area is needed. The pump-out is now working and all slips are rented. He has met with an electrician several times in an effort to resolve some of the electrical issues on the docks.

SOCIAL – Information about the Rosegill social will appear in the May Log.

GROUNDS – Chip Hall thanked the approximately 30 people who volunteered their help on Clean-Up Day. The new land project work gets underway on May 18.

LONG RANGE PLANNING – Strother Scott stated that as the Long Range Champion, he had been given a goal date of September 30, 2005 to prepare a 10-year Long-Range Plan. His committee has been working on three of the 11 items that are to be considered. He requested that the time frame for the committee's report be extended to September 30, 2006, which would allow the committee time to thoroughly consider all 11 items.

FINANCE – Mason Chapman and Club Treasurer Paul Howle have converted their QuickBooks version to the online version, which allows both of them ready access to the program.

WINTER PROGRAMS – Cam Hoggan reported that the Gary Jobson event was a huge success.

PUBLICITY – Kelly O'Toole reported on information from Captain Glover of the Schooner Virginia and the financial arrangements that would have to be made in order for the ship to be brought to Deltaville. In an attempt to determine the interest level in the weekly camps aboard the ship, information will be sent out by e-mail, posted online and included in the Log.

OPERATIONS MANAGER – Jay introduced the new Operations Manager, Dixon Cole, to the Board. Dixon reported on various maintenance issues that he is working on. Ric Bauer and Chip Hall will work with him concerning removal of the two dead trees on the property.

VICE COMMODORE – LUD H. KIMBROUGH, III

OFFSHORE DIVISION – Eric Powers discussed how the scoring of boats without valid rating certificates on file would be handled. Eric also stated that he thought the scoring operations should be moved to a computer with high-speed connections.

ONE DESIGN DIVISION – Sharon Bauer advised that there were 48 participants for John McCarthy's Racing Rules Seminar, 26 participants for the Race Management Seminar, and 28 participants for the Greg Fisher Flying Scot Seminar.

JUNIOR DIVISION – Noel reported that Steve Wirt has most of the key volunteer leaders lined up for Junior Week but still needs more. Noel discussed the status of registrations for OptiKids and Junior Week, which are currently significantly lower than the level last year. He has extended the registration deadline online for a few days and plans to include a late registration form in the May Log. Noel reported that coordination of the Junior Olympics and Leukemia Cup for the weekend of July 9-10 was progressing well and that members will be asked to consider housing visiting juniors on Saturday night, July 10, in return for a contribution to the Leukemia Cup by the visitor. Elizabeth Staas will head the housing effort.

FLEET LT. – Brooks Zerkel reported that repairs needed on the Whaler and Seacraft should be completed in time for both boats to be in operation on Opening Day.

OLD BUSINESS – David Hazlehurst and Jere Dennison met with Carolyn Schmalenberger and Carl Barrafoto, Manager of the Peninsula YMCA, to discuss a schedule for the community sailing program this year. No date has been set but it will probably take place in late July.

NEW BUSINESS – Allan Heyward reported that the club has been contacted about relocation of a portion of the Stove Point Road. A plat drawing of the proposed relocation was available for Board review. The Board passed a motion that would authorize the Flag Officers to negotiate and conclude an arrangement, subject to Board ratification, for the movement of the Stove Point Road that fits the criteria that the club incur no cost in the relocation, that the club be compensated for any net loss of land, that the club have a say in the location of the road to the Richardson property, and that all construction take place outside of the club's sailing season.

There being no additional business, the meeting was adjourned at 8:00 p.m.■

Participation-Crew Training

David Hazlehurst

On the water crew training sessions were held April 9 and April 16, in both cases limited to using Schiehallion, a Beneteau 305 skippered by Brad Miller, and ably assisted by an Oracle crew member, Chris Tulip. Participation was minimal with two members the first session and two members and a non-member the final session. While attendance was disappointing we have every prospect of having encouraged two members to get back into racing with the possibility of two more boats on the starting line. Attendance was by no means what we had hoped for but this initiative was a good learning experience, not least because it reminded us of the importance of keeping our member interest lists up to date.

Our next participation challenge is to get Juniors to continue sailing in regattas after Junior week, and at least as important which those who have read the April Board meeting minutes will recognize we also have to get our younger members to sign up for Junior week.■

FBYC PHRF Fleet Information

Mayo Tabb

With the racing season starting we have a very healthy PHRF Fleet with 37 boats holding a valid rating as of April 14. This puts us in the top 5 of clubs on the Bay in terms of size of the PHRF class out of the 1600 boats rated by PHRF of the Chesapeake. This is composed of 17 boats in the PHRF A class which for boats rating 114 and below and 20 boats in the PHRF B class for boats rating 115 and higher. The class splits are changed from last year. The scratch boat in the A class is Dawn Trader with a 42 and Avalanche has the most favorable rating with a 201 in class B. Our most popular class is the 4 boat J-105 class rating at 96. If you would like a PHRF rating please contact Mayo Tabb at "mayo.tabb@liebert.com", cell 804 690 3540 or home at 804 690 3540 as it is a easy process that for stock boats takes less than a week to get a rating.

A copy of the list of all FBYC boats holding valid 2005 ratings will be posted on Mr. Roberts next to the entry form box and will be considered attached to the entry of all boats on the list so therefore boats on the list will not be required to attached a copy of their certificate to each entry form. ■

Spring Clean-up, Done in the Rain Chip Hall

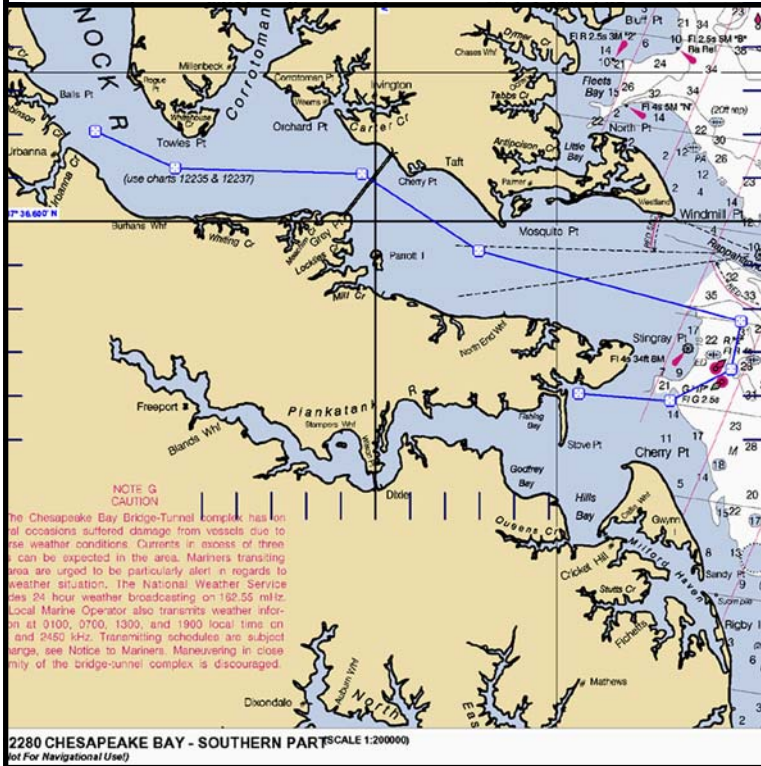

At 7:00 AM on April 2nd, the scheduled day for the spring cleanup, the sky over the yacht club looked very threatening and the weather forecast was for steady and heavy rain all day. In spite of a late note suggesting that people might want to bail out because of the bad weather, by 9:30 there were about 30 volunteers busy raking, pruning, cleaning, spreading mulch and doing other spruce up stuff. About 10:00 the rain had settled in, but the tough and dedicated crew ignored the deluge and mid and continued. On his second day on the job Dixon Cole, our new operations manager, fired up his little ford tractor and graded the driveways and filled in some ditches. Jane Hall fed us doughnuts early and great chicken salad sandwiches at lunch. By 12:30 we had pretty well completed the most important tasks and could do little more in the weather, so we put the tools away headed for dry land. All in all it was a very successful day, and I thank each and every one of the faithful who was there! What a show of dedication and love for the FBYC. It's members like this bunch that make FBYC the beat yacht club on the bay! Chip Hall, Grounds Chairman. ■

Remembering Hurricane Hazel

Jere Dennison

Nearly 50 years before Hurricane Isabel wrought her destruction on the Fishing Bay Yacht Club and its environs, Hurricane Hazel held the dubious reputation of being the “baddest” storm in our club’s history. On October 1954, 1954, Hazel made landfall on the North Carolina/South Carolina border with 110 mph winds with highest estimated gusts of 140-150 mph. With a remarkably similar track to Isabel, she spiraled north through central and southeast Virginia with devastating results to the Chesapeake Bay. Her destructive path took her all the way to Canada before she significantly diminished in intensity.

Roof Damage 1954

Young Mayo with Father 1954

Sea Fever Beached 1954

Thanks to Maria Tabb, a former member and mother to current member Mayo Tabb, we have some recently rediscovered photographs of Hazel’s effect on Fishing Bay. Her husband Cabell was an insurance broker and was anxious in the aftermath of the storm to make a photographic record of the damage sustained by the boats he insured for clubmembers.

Pier Damage 1954

Beached Yacht 1954

There was one major difference between Hazel’s era and Isabel’s era. Back in the 1950s, some of the club yachts were on permanent moorings in Fishing Bay. Obviously, Fishing Bay could not offer the same protection as Jackson Creek and the moored boats were beached in the storm.☐

FLYING SCOT SEMINAR

Debbie Cycotte

To kick off the 2005 sailing season, FBYC Fleet #103, held a seminar on successfully racing Flying Scots to be sure that everyone was up on the latest tuning advice and ready to go.

Twenty-seven sailors attended with visitors from the Scot fleets at RRYC, LOWSC, GRSA and one Fireball sailor from Indian Creek YC on Sunday, April 10th. It was perfect weather to hold the clinic outside with a clear blue sky, temperatures in the 60's, and a gentle breeze perfect for "land sailing".

The real success to the seminar was our teacher, Greg Fisher, who heads up the One-Design Loft for North Sails in Annapolis. Greg is also one of the very best One-Design sailors in the country - his expertise to sailing is matched by few. His resume' of sailing championships is over 36 National, North Americans and Midwinters titles in 9 One-Design classes. But what makes this guy so special is that he is a really nice person and an incredible teacher. He shares his knowledge with us in a clear and interesting way and is always very responsive to any and all questions. His genuine interest in helping you learn more is unbelievable.

Many thanks to Noel Clinard for providing us with his Scot to use in the parking lot. We spent the entire time around his boat while gathering the latest in rigging, sail trim & performance, boat handling and tuning techniques.

This was an outstanding seminar and a fun day with fellow Scotters.

“Homecoming”

Jerry Desvernine

The Mobjack first developed and built in Gloucester VA has come home. The Mobjack is being built with the same spirit that started the boat. First designed and built in 1956 by Roger Moorman the Mobjack was inspired for comfort and ease. The inspiration was in keeping with the popular one designs of the time. Mr. Moorman designed the boat so it would be as or more comfortable than a Thistle and still have desirable characteristics, like self-bailing.

The first Mobjack National Championship was held at Fishing Bay in 1959. The first place trophy was Moorman's gift, a fruit bowl circa 1820 which at one time sat in his home. Around 1974 a group of Mobjack sailors raised money to buy the molds and began producing more Mobjacks. The production of Mobjacks moved to Maryland in 1976. The last Mobjack was built approximately ten years ago. Once again the spirit of the Mobjack sailor re-ignites the flame... maybe it is in the name. The sailors in Mobjack Bay, know as Jack Tars, use to amuse themselves by chanting and hollering into the woods at New Point Comfort. The semicircle of wooded area would provide dramatic echoes.

For more information about the Mobjack contact Jerry Desvernine, Mobjack Fleet Captain. or Miles Booth.■

from the #2 entrance day marker or 20 some miles from FBYC. We're on the right or Northeast side. We have a couple of slips here and I could arrange for a slip or two at our neighbors. The anchorage is very good just off our dock and fairly well sheltered from all winds. I have a dinghy I can ferry people back and forth with. We also have a couple of kayaks for people to use.

I'll have a sizable grill and another if needed. I have a picnic table, dock, water, electricity, bathrooms, and what ever else the group needs.

Please register no later than June 8th on the website or with Gordon so he will be able to prepare for us. Everyone should bring something to grill, and a side dish to share. June 18 to July 3: Two week Circumnavigation of Delmarva Peninsula

We will sail down the bay at dawn on June 18, with a falling tide: after 7:21 am we should reach the ocean around noon and head for Cape May. We will have almost a full moon until 2:30 am leaving only three hours of total darkness. The goal is to arrive in Cape May on Sunday afternoon. After spending a couple of days sightseeing, we will head up Delaware Bay to Chesapeake City, and then Georgetown, Rock Hall, Annapolis, Wye River, St. Michaels, Oxford, Solomons and then join the other cruisers at St. Marys on July 1, returning to Deltaville on July 3. This trip can be done without crew as Carolyn and I have previously made this trip with no difficulty. Please call Joe Schott O-673-8910 ext 217 or H 748-4142 for more information. Front Runner Mid-Winters
Regatta
Matt Braun

Davis Island Yacht Club hosted this year's Front Runner Midwinter Championship. This event is always graciously hosted by DIYC in conjunction with the North American Midwinter Championship for Fireballs and served as a tune-up for dozens of Flying Scots in preparation for their Midwinter Championship in St Petersburg. Many thanks go to DIYC and Paul Leonard the event chair. I am especially thankful for Paul's eye for detail and years of experience in preventing our fleet from displaying bad form when Paul denied our request to call this the "Front Runner Intergalactic Winner Takes All Throw Down Regatta". I was also amazed by his good nature in hosting those zany Fireball sailors who still think it is hilarious to put one lucky competitor's boat in the club pool.

This year the participants were welcomed to DIYC amidst the newly completed club house with elevated views of Hillsborough Bay and Tampa's prominent downtown. Both the weather and the accommodations were excellent. Once everyone figured out how to rig a Front Runner and that our spinnakers are faster with the head up, we were treated to a spectacular weekend of competition. The first day tested most with light and shifty conditions that reinforced two old axioms: "sail to the shore" and the "first shall be last and the last shall be first". Needless to say that where you started on the line had little to do with where you finished and everyone experienced the ups and downs of 45 degree shifts and frequent holes.

The wind filled in for the remaining two days allowing a total of nine races. The warm northwesterly wind built enough each day to provide steady wind with no more than 20 degree variations. Most races started or finished in conditions between 10-15 knots. All in all the conditions created a great start to our racing season with no one reporting any major equipment failure or disastrously bad decisions that often plague the first outing of the year. The finale of the event was a well-attended awards ceremony with entertainment provided by the very lively and vigorous Fireball fleet.☐

Schooner Virginia to FBYC

Kelly O'Toole

We have a great opportunity to bring the Schooner Virginia to FBYC, and to provide a sailing camp upon it for 10 children ages 14-17 and 2 adult chaperones. I have contacted Captain Glover and he has given us the dates of July 10th until July 16th. This is a first come first served bases. The rate will be $650.00 per person this is a discounted rate of $200.00 if we can fill the spaces. This is a unique adventure for the children as well as the adults, they will be working alongside a crew of 12 sailing the hand built 122 foot long recreation tall ship, everyone will have an equal and important role in operating the vessel. They will tackle the daily tasks required to safely sail the 154 ton schooner. Each person will have his or her own bunk in the vessels common bunk area, linen blankets towels and three meals a day are supplied. Please contact:

RICHMOND, VA, Apr. 14, 2005 -- Sailboat skippers, drop your mainsails. Power boaters, cut your engines. This event is just for people who want to exercise their muscles as they join the fun at the 7th Annual Southern Chesapeake Leukemia Cup Regatta.

On Saturday, May 7, at 9:00 a.m., experienced and novice kayakers alike will gather at Holly Point Nature Park to help the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, Virginia Chapter, raise funds to find cures and provide care for those debilitating and often deadly diseases.

Like latter-day Lewises and Clarks, paddlers will launch their crafts and head out for a peaceful exploration along the Chesapeake and Piankatank River area. Paddling time: about three hours.

Jan and Shawn Towne, owners of BayTrail Outfitters, co-sponsor of the event, will be your hosts and tour guides, pointing out the beautiful waterfowl and sites along the way.

"We hope many kayak beginners will join us. We'll give basic instruction before we head off," said Jan Towne. "And, of course, we'll all be wearing life jackets."

Participation won't be restricted just to people who own kayaks. A limited number of these sleek canoes will be provided at no charge by Bay Trail Outfitters. Call 804-725-0626 to make your reservation. Fees are $50 for tandem paddlers, $35 for a single kayak.

When you register, you will be sent a fundraising packet and be assigned a patient honoree. Your mission will be to raise contributions among family, friends, neighbors, and anyone else who will contribute to the cause, then bring your contributions to the event. Valuable kayaking gear will be awarded to the top three fundraisers.

Sarah S. Serra, volunteer coordinator of the event, promises a good time for all and assures newcomers that paddling a kayak is no more difficult than navigating a supermarket cart through the produce section on a busy Saturday. Which is something you won't have to do that day if you join the Kayak Tour. ■
